

SETZ - Settlement Zone

The majority of the District’s residential, commercial, industrial and other social facilities and activities are located in the Kaikōura urban area. However, the Settlement Zone incorporates those small settlements which contain a mixture of living, business, community and productive use. The Settlement Zone applies to the following settlements in the District: Kekerengu, Clarence (Matariki), Rakautara, Peketa, Goose Bay (Otemakura), Hapuku, Oaro and Omihi.

These settlements are included in the Settlement Zone in order to provide for the consolidation of residential and commercial activities in these areas, and to avoid unnecessary development in rural and coastal areas. These settlements will continue to serve a variety of functions including service centres, fishing settlements, retirement and holiday home settlements. In general, these small towns have a relatively stable population with residents generally enjoying a high standard of visual, and open space amenity. However, these settlements experience some isolation with regard to access to employment, and to various commercial, social, cultural and recreational facilities.

The fundamental characteristics of these townships is their small scale and less intense development. They make an important contribution to the housing needs and social and economic well-being of the local population. They provide the opportunity for persons to live close to their source of employment and are valued by residents and visitors alike for their amenity, services and facilities.

Historically the District's small settlements were founded on sites of earlier Māori occupation as rural service centres, fishing, and holiday settlements. All are located adjacent to the main transport routes or along the coastal margins of the District. The townships comprise a mixture of residential, commercial, recreational, rural, community and other uses, generally interspersed and without a clear pattern or definition of development. There has been little in the way of commercial and industrial growth in recent years, although all have continued to serve their purpose.

Issues

SETZ-I1	Protection of amenity values in settlement areas
Provision for a wide range of activities in settlement areas while ensuring that the character and scale of buildings and the effects of activities do not adversely affect the amenity enjoyed by residents.

Objectives

SETZ-O1	Settlement character and amenity
To provide for a low density, low scale residential environment within the small settlements of the District, and to provide for a wide range of activities, while recognising a need to maintain the amenity of the residential environment.

Policies

SETZ-P1	Enable activities while managing effects on amenity
To enable a wide range of activities to be undertaken within small settlements, provided effects such as noise, traffic generation and lighting spill associated with activities do not adversely affect the amenity enjoyed on neighbouring sites.
SETZ-P2	Provision of on-site parking and manoeuvring
To maintain the amenity of settlement areas by ensuring sufficient on-site parking and manoeuvring areas for vehicles are established.
SETZ-P3	Preserve settlement amenity values
To ensure that the design and siting of development (building height, building coverage, recession lines setbacks and provision of outdoor living areas) is controlled so that: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. development will not unreasonably deny neighbouring properties sunlight, daylight or views and; b. ample on-site provision of outdoor living space oriented to the sun exists; and c. an open and attractive scene exists; and d. a character and scale of buildings and open space is maintained which is compatible with the anticipated residential environment.
SETZ-P4	Avoid development that adversely affects settlement amenity and character
To avoid or mitigate development which would detract from the predominant character, scale and amenity of the particular residential environment.

SETZ-P5	Promote Zero Waste policy
To promote Council’s “Zero Waste” policy by promoting and encouraging the reduction, reuse and recycling of unwanted materials.

Methods Other Than Rules

SETZ-M1	Identify Settlement Zones
Provision of Settlement Zones and rules to control the use, development and subdivision of land in those zones. These rules will include rules relating to the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. The design and siting of development - e.g., building height, building coverage and recession lines and setbacks. b. Noise and lighting spill. c. The establishment of non-residential activities in residential areas. d. Subdivision e.g., rules regarding servicing, provision of land for open space and recreation.
SETZ-M2	Promote waste management guidelines
Guidelines to promote and encourage the reduction, reuse and recycling of unwanted materials – refer to the Waste Management Guidelines - All Zones in Appendix 2.

Principal Reasons

SETZ-PR1	Protect settlement character and amenity
A fundamental feature of the amenity of settlements is the mixture of both "rural" and "urban" elements, the informal appearance, large section size and low intensity of development. In some instances, these features are the result of underlying factors, such as the need to provide for adequate on-site sewage disposal systems. The amenity of a town may also be influenced by local resources or activities, which contribute to the differentiation between settlements and other urban areas. These features create a "village" type amenity which residents and visitors generally expect and enjoy. Sources of employment for residents of the settlements and the surrounding rural area are important for their economic well-being. Some settlements reflect more of a holiday atmosphere, with the emphasis on lifestyle and retirement rather than employment. In some settlements, adverse environmental effects arising from commercial activities may be incompatible with this lifestyle approach. In others, such as Kekerengu, there may be more tolerance to effects of commercial activities as a by-product of employment generation. Commercial activities in settlements may impinge upon environmental qualities through: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. visual intrusion of large buildings; b. air and water borne effluent; c. increased traffic on local roads; d. generation of noise and dust. To maintain a pleasant environment in settlements and to ensure nuisances or health risks do not arise, there is a need for some limitation on non-residential activity.

Anticipated Environmental Results

SETZ-A1
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Small rural villages comprising a mixture of land uses and with a low intensity of development. 2. Pleasant living and working environments within these villages. 3. Retention of the character and of the residential environment within settlements of the District, including: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. dominance of open space and plantings over buildings; b. compatibility between activities.
